A YEAR round DESTINATION

No matter the time of year, Montreux's scenic landscape and cultural offerings make it a must-visit destination.

Once UPON a TIME

Montreux was just a small cluster of charming villages, surrounded by mountains, vineyards and forests.

At the end of the 18th century, Jean-Jacques Rousseau chose this romantic landscape as the setting for his novel “La nouvelle Héloïse”.

In 1816, Lord Byron discovered the shores of Lake Geneva, and his poem “The prisoner of Chillon” made Montreux and the Chillon Castle famous.

Tourism took off in the 1850's, and by the end of the 19th century, Montreux was known worldwide, thanks to its microclimate.

For
a CENTURY

Montreux Palace, a legendary holiday destination which has delighted visitors for over a century with its Belle-Epoque architecture and reputation for impeccable hospitality stretching back to its founding in 1906.

1881

Swiss pioneers Alexandre Emery and Ami Chessex buy the Hotel du Cygne in Montreux.

1906

In their desire of expansion, they commission Swiss architect Eugene Jost to build the Montreux Palace joined to the original Cygne building. The palace is built in a record time of 18 months.

TIME Line

GOLDEN AGE

Wonderful parties and grand social occasions are held in the magnificent “ArtNouveau” and “Neo-Baroque” ballrooms. Guests come from all over the world: European aristocrats, Russian princes, New-York bankers, Maharajahs...

1911

A sports hall (the “Pavillon”) is built to entertain the guests with a tea room, a skating rink and a firing range.

DURING THE WAR

The hotel is used as a hospital to shelter wounded Allied soldiers during World War I and World War II.

1936

The Montreux Convention is signed at the hotel on July 20th. The treaty, which still governs access to the Black Sea as an important piece of international law.

1967

First edition of the Montreux Jazz Festival. Miles Davis and Aretha Franklin are among the international celebrities to vacation at the hotel.

TALES and LEGENDS

1961

Renowned Russian novelist Vladimir Nabokov began living in the hotel. Celebrated across the globe for works like Lolita and Pale Fire, he remained at Le Montreux Palace for the next 16 years.

1995

It was Freddie Mercury who said, "If you want peace of mind, come to Montreux". The peace and quiet of the area inspired Queen who recorded their last album "Made in Heaven" at the Montreux Studio. In Memory of Mercury's several stays at the Fairmont Le Montreux Palace, the hotel names a suite in his honor.

on the BIG SCREEN

The hotel was used as a filming location several times: In 1964, Sir Peter Ustinov's movie "Lady L", starring Sophia Loren and David Niven is filmed in the Montreux Palace. In 2000, Luc Besson used the Palace for 10 days for scenes for his film "Kiss of the Dragon" with Jet Li and Bridget Fonda.

1971

On December 4th, the Montreux Casino caught fire while the band Deep Purple was staying in Montreux. The impressive smoke spreading over Lake Geneva inspired the band's famous song "Smoke on the Water". The "Funky Claude" lyrics references Claude Nobs, who helped people escape the fire.

2007

Legendary artist Prince performs at the Montreux Jazz Festival for the first time. When he came back at 4am, he started to sing and play piano in the Grand Hall where clients and staff had the chance to see him play in all simplicity.

To this day,

During the Montreux Jazz Festival, Fairmont Le Montreux Palace greets a number of famous artists such as Quincy Jones, Stevie Wonder, Santana, Elton John, Diana Ross, Sam Smith, Ed Sheeran, Johnny Depp, Woodkid, John Legend...
