Today, the Bisses provide wonderful walks on gentle slopes which enable you to discover nature in all her glory, whilst also enjoying outstanding views.

In the Crans-Montana region, some of the best known are the Bisse du Ro, which takes you from Lake Tseuzier along towering rock faces, crossing a 120m high footbridge, or the Bisse du Tsittoret, which leads to the wild Tièche Valley, and offers the most beautiful panoramic views in the region. However, there are many others that also deserve to be explored.

Thanks to its high plateau, Crans-Montana offers many lakes and ponds, allowing young and old to refresh themselves at the water's edge and truly enjoy the summer. Whether it's swimming across the lake, fishing, or pedal on the water, do stand-up paddle or wakeboard, in Crans-Montana there is something for everyone, but one thing is certain, one way to truly enjoy summer is in the middle of nature, surroundings by the water, to the delight of those who enjoy water activities.

Three quality golf courses, a prestigious club, an indoor center that is open all year round, a golf academy for all levels and ages, and the annual host of one of the most prestigious tournaments on the European tour, the Omega European Masters...this is what is on offer for golfers from all over the world on the Crans-Montana plateau.

Although Crans-sur-Sierre Golf Club's global reputation has been built on over a century of tradition, it is above all the exceptional setting that remains etched in the memories of those who play on the famous Severiano Ballesteros (18 hole) and Jack Nicklaus (9 hole) courses. It is difficult to concentrate on the little white ball when one of the most beautiful mountains in the Alps appears at every tee-off! But in these surroundings, the mountains soothe and inspire golfers and encourage unwavering precision and endless pleasure.
